Crossrail Technical Papers Competition Finalists Presentations

This is an open event where the shortlisted finalists from the annual Crossrail Technical Papers Competition will present their papers, with the winner announced at the end - all are welcome.

The presentations will cover a variety of engineering and geotechnical topics relating to recent Crossrail design and construction works. The Crossrail Technical Papers Competition runs annually and receives papers from a range of engineering and technical disciplines. It is open to all organisations currently or previously involved in the project, including designers, contractors, joint ventures and those working for Crossrail Limited.
